EPIDEMIA LITERARIA

A small, stylized illustration of a person with red hair and glasses, wearing a white shirt, positioned at the bottom right of the page.

The image shows the front cover of a book titled "¡Nosotros pensamos!" (We Think!). The title is written in large, bold, yellow letters at the top. Below it, a subtitle reads "Aprende a discutir, deliberar y tener un juicio propio" (Learn to discuss, deliberate, and form your own judgment). The authors' names, "Rodrigo Lara Serrano" and "Leonor Sole Sebastián", are also mentioned. The background of the cover is blue and features various white line drawings related to thinking and learning, such as an open book, a magnifying glass, a pencil, a star, a question mark, binoculars, and a map pin. The book is positioned on the left side of the image, while the right side shows a blurred view of a classroom or library setting.
